

Neoliberalism and the Crises of Economic Science

May 20-22, 2011, Istanbul University, Beyazit

FINAL CALL FOR PAPERS

The global crisis of the last years of the 'noughties' has cruelly exposed the deficiencies of both mainstream economics and broader strands of political economy from across the social sciences that have promoted neoliberalism. But the degree of consequential rethinking has been strikingly underwhelming. This conference will examine the multiple crises of economic science, informed by perspectives of political economy that have long been ignored and marginalised by the mainstream.

IIPPE has decided to extend the deadline for submission in order to allow for more participants. So we are issuing a final call for individual contributions and proposals for panels that address Neoliberalism and the Crises of Economic Science. But to maximize your chance of a place on the programme, you may need to apply sooner rather than later.

- The final deadline for submission of both individual abstracts of papers and proposals for panels is 28th February 2011 (On line submission on <http://www.iippe.org/wiki>).
- Potential participants will be notified by 21st March.
- The deadline for the submission of full papers remains 15th April. Hosted by Turkish Social Sciences Association (TSSA) and Istanbul University Research Center for Global Politics and Administration (GLOPAR).

The original call for papers can be found at:
http://www.iippe.org/wiki/Second International Conference in Political Economy